Doctor GRAHAM, TAKES this Method to thank the respectable Inhabitants of Newark and Elizabeth-Town, in East New-Jersey, for the Opportunities they have been pleas'd to favour him with, of shewing his Skill and Abilities.
The Inhabitants of British America in general, may depend on his best Endeavours in their Behalf: Successful practice, low Charges, Moderation and Attention, to even the poorest Individual; added to his having had more Experience in the Disorders of the Eyes and Ears, than perhaps any Practitioner on this vast Continent, induces him to hope for some Share of Favour of the Public; who easily will distinguish true Merit, from pretended Knowledge.
The Dr. intends to be at Brunswick the first of next Month.
States-Island, 17th June, 1771.

AN ADDRESS to the RISING GENERATION.
"Heaven gives the needful, but neglected call;
"What day, what hour, but knocks at human heart,
"To wake the soul to sense of future scenes!
"Death stands like Mercury in every way,
"And kindly point us to our journey's end."
Young's Night Thoughts.

REJOICE, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou, that for all these things, God will bring thee into judgment.
Awful thought! sufficient, one would think, to check the most abandoned libertine in his gay career of folly, madness, and dissipation; but how unhappily mistaken should we be, were we to esteem the generality of the young men of the present age, wise enough to attend to it. No: their daily practices evidence their stupidity, and their thoughtless conduct, their inattention to, and disregard of, their own interests for both worlds. Swallowed up in the pursuits of sensual pleasures, and entirely absorbed in the enjoyments of present satisfaction,
they have no time for reflection, no opportunities
to consider that the end of these things is death, not only temporal but eternal. From the prodigal courses of too many youths in this great nation,
I greatly fear, it will, in the end, be found,
they were their own destroyers; that it would have been far better for them had they never been born;
or that a millstone had been hung about their necks, and they cast into the depth of the sea, never to rise again. But oh! how dreadful the consideration! that men (endowed with immortal never-dying souls, who have reasonable faculties given to distinguish them from the brutes which perish) should put themselves upon a level with the latter, and by their licentious behaviour ruin themselves for ever.
To avoid which before it is too late, Hear, O ye simple, understand wisdom, and ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart; let the precepts of religion engage your attention, and the rules of Christianity be the objects of your practice; for wisdom's ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man, and he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich. Seek not, O youth, the pleasures of the world; for, like the bee, they have their sting, and, like the rose,
their thorns; they may be desirable in the present enjoyment of them, but they are sure to be a certain death. In the narrow circle of my acquaintance, I have seen the sinned sweets of forbidden

joys early change, and end in the bitterness of woe.
You may promise yourselves many years to come,
wherein you may intend to repent and be wise, but Delays are dangerous.
Procrastination is the thief of time.

It may be now or never with you, as it was with two or three young fellows in the compass of my knowledge, who were (as the common phrase is) for a merry life though a short one; and who (through a course of vice and sensuality, glorying in the despicable characters of Bucks and Bloods of the first rank, choice Spirits of the age, and Jemmy Jesamys of the time) have brought on themselves
a complication of disorders, and are now raving, delirious, incapable of making the least preparations for a future state, and, to all human appearance, on the verge of an eternal world. Flee youthful lusts as you would the plague; shun idle, loose, and gay companions, as your inevitable bane;
and remember for your constant observance and remark.
Death treads in pleasure's footsteps round the world;
When pleasure treads the paths which reason shuns,
When against reason riot shuts the door,
And gaiety supplies the place of sense;
Then forego the banquet and the ball
Death leads the dance, and stamps the deadly dye,
Nor ever fails the midnight bowl to crown.

YOUNG.
For your direction: in leisure hours, instead of going to the theatre, gaming-houses, brothels, and the like, which can never be of any service to you,
but greatly to the contrary, as dear-bought experience has too late convinced many a one; pursue useful and ornamental knowledge, study history, natural philosophy, music, drawing, painting, &c.
and seek the improving conversation of the sensible and virtuous fair, together with that of a few select friends of your own sex, esteemed for their piety and discretion, and every night ask yourself the question, as in the presence of the great creator,
Have I lived this day as I would do my last?
Such self enquiries are the road,
Which lead to virtue and to God. Dr. WATTS.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast." POPE.

THERE is no surer criterion by which to judge of a nation's tendency to slavery, than its prosperity: it is that shakes its constitution, that enervates every sinew, and renders it an easy prey to the tyrant. The present age seem to be lulled too fast asleep in the downy lap of pleasure, to be awakened by the hasty strides of despotism, that shake the very foundations of the constitution, and threaten to bury them in its ruin: from the present age, nothing is to be expected but folly, madness, and impiety. The eye sickens at the sight, the heart bleeds at the idea; but though we have no hopes from the falling, God forbid we should have none from the rising generation. It is from them, we hope the preservation of our rights, laws and religion: it is from them, we hope the exertion of every virtue that adorns human nature; that they may blush for their abandoned fathers; that their young hearts may glow in the cause of virtue and of liberty; that they may exult at the thought of disarming the tyrant, and of espousing the prodigal;
both equally destructive of human felicity, both equally wicked, both equally foolish. The tyrant in the long run meets with his reward. The axe haunts him in his most retired moments, the assassin meets him in every dream. The prodigal, if he were to escape punishment in the next world, is certain of it in this. Disease, poverty and shame, are his constant companions; ever on the pursuit of pleasure, always in the possession of pain. The tyrant and the prodigal are equally miserable; and to aggravate their offence, they both know they are doing the wrong part; they can both say,

Video meliora, probroque
Deteriora sequor.
POPLICOLA.

L O N D O N.

April 17. It is said, that 2000*l.* is already deposited for the use of Mr. Wilkes, in case he should be chosen Sheriff, which is more than sufficient to answer the charges, the same being estimated at no more than 1400*l.*

Three ships of the line and four frigates, are now fitting out from Portsmouth and Plymouth, that are ordered to relieve Commodore Gambier, at Boston. This force is intended to guard the coast, from Nova Scotia to Cape Henry, in Virginia, from the fatal effects of prohibited trade, which is now carried on in defiance of the act of navigation, to the manifest injury of the Mother Country in general. At Spithead, Admiral Hughes, with 29 sail of men of war.

April 19. Yesterday was determined in the Court of Common Pleas, the action upon the case for a libel and defamatory words. Onslow against Horne, as by adjournment the last term. The Lord Chief Justice, recapitulating the whole of the case, and the arguments used by both Councils last term, observed, That one general rule was to be observed in cases of defamatory words; and that was, when the words so spoken were obnoxious to prosecution and punishment; yet even this general rule was subject to limitation. For instance, said he, to charge a trader with bankruptcy, a man of profession with incapacity, or a person in a public office with a breach of trust. These specific charges are certainly actionable, because the damages are obvious. But let us see how these facts will operate on the case in point. At a meeting at Episcopi on the 26th June 1769, to instruct the Representatives of the County, the Defendant said, "As for instructing one of our Members to obtain redress, we may as well instruct the winds, the water or the air; for should he (Mr. Onslow) promise his assistance, I would not believe him." Now here is no charge of the violation of his oath as a Member of Parliament, or any charge whereby he may suffer damages. The sentence contains no more than that he believed Mr. Onslow would not keep his word: For these reasons I am of opinion, no judgment can be given. The rest of the Judges were of the same opinion; and the verdict of 400*l.* damages to Mr. Onslow was set aside.

The Court of Lisbon, jealous of the great progress the British trade is making towards the South of America, has published an Edict, excluding all foreigners from trading with the Portuguese settlements in that part of the world.

Yesterday the Earl of Hillsborough had a conference with his Majesty at the Queen's Palace, said to be on the subject of the last advices received from some of the American Colonies.

Notwithstanding the reports in the papers, many believe the Parliament will be dissolved, and some are supposed to be in the secret, are already trying their strength, by canvassing.

A morning paper gives the following letter as from very respectable authority.

"I have great pleasure in informing you, that a political convulsion has been felt at St. James's, not unlike the first shock of an earthquake. The King himself at last sees how necessary it is to give way, and the whole ministerial system totters. When Lord N— asked the K— whether the whole of the Prince of Wales's Household was fixed, he was told, that every thing was settled. As soon as the Session is finished, he must retire with dishonour, and those, who are near his Majesty, see plainly, that he is determined upon an entire change of measures. A dissolution of Parliament will certainly take place. Z. Z."

April 22. Private letters from Copenhagen advise, that the Queen of Denmark is with child, to the great joy of that whole nation, and is happily in perfect health. The letters add, that the King of Denmark has confirmed the Liberty of the press in his dominions; and that his Majesty has received a letter in consequence from M. de Voltaire, together with a poem; wherein he flatters this Liberty, the greatest blessing which his Danish Majesty could have bestowed upon Subjects for the improvement of learning.

This morning about 10 o'clock, the Right Hon. Bashi Crosby, Esq. Lord Mayor, accompanied by the Committee, went in coaches from the Tower, through the City, to Westminster hall, and being brought to the Court of Common-Pleas, Mr. Serjeant Glynn opened the matter with great energy, and was seconded by Mr. Serjeant Lee, pleading, that as his Lordship had acted as Chief Magistrate of the City of London, he was answerable to no jurisdiction but that of the Livery and Common Council; the Court was extremely attentive, and took notes, as did several in the galleries, which were exceeding full, among whom were the Rev. Mr. Horne, and Mr. Wilkes. After the Council had ended, the Court spoke with great precision and clearness on the subject, and found that no Court of Justice had any jurisdiction over the House of Commons, who, in the present case, were only acting with respect to their own Members, a thing peculiar to every Society, and showing a power which was vested in them by the very fundamentals of the constitution; that his Lordship's deed was not only a contempt of the House of Commons, but even of the citizens of London themselves, who are virtually a part of that Hon. House by their Representatives; on which account the Court found themselves incapable to relieve his Lordship, so that he was remanded back to the Tower.

His Lordship was dressed in blue; had on a queue peruke, and wore the golden chain, the only badge of his dignity.

It is said that Lord Chatham insists on a Dissolution of Parliament as a previous step to his coming into Office, which measure is strongly opposed by some now in office.

It is said the Right Hon. Lord North will address the House of Commons, in a speech of a peculiar nature, in a few days, which will greatly surprise the public in general.

April 24. It is said that the bill for raising a military force in the East-Indies will not take place.

The Spaniards have now begun to transport all the flower of their troops from the sea-ports in Old Spain to their American settlements.—This occasions various conjectures.

We have in this kingdom several Councils; we have a Privy Council, a Cabinet Council, and (to the great disgust of the nation) it is said there is a more Secret Council, by which the other two are directed.

The best judges are now determined in their opinion, that we shall have a breach with Spain before next spring.

We are assured that Alderman Wilkes, and Frederick Bull, Esq. will be candidates for the office of Sheriffs for the city of London, and county of Middlesex, for the year ensuing; and also Alderman Oliver, and Alderman Kirkman.—A close poll is expected.

Tuesday last arrived the Duke of Cumberland, Patrick, Capt. Marsham, in 6 Weeks and 4 Days from Falmouth, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

I T A L Y. Leghorn, March 20.

ALI BEY's fortunate progress in the plundering of Syria and Palestine, is confirmed by the last accounts received from Cairo. Besides Jerusalem and Joppa, the towns of Hebron, Tiberias, Caesarea, Hippos and Capernaum have surrendered to him and his allies. About 22,000 of the inhabitants of Mount Lebanon make part of this united army which is now before Damascus, and after taking that place is to attack Seyd, Tripoli and Aleppo.

Venice, March 24. The Marquis de Marassini, Minister from Russia, has succeeded in the loan, which he negotiated at Genoa for 2,000,000 florins.

Paris, April 22. Last Thursday in the night the Musketeers carried letters de cachet to the 12 members of the Great Council, who had resigned, ordering them to return to the Palace, and resume their functions. Some of them would not go there, and others returned only to renew their protests. Mr. Lambert, the Dean, having his letter de cachet in his hand, declared that the King might command his fortune, his person, and his life, but that he could not dispose of his honour or his conscience.

As soon as the parliament of Rouen was informed of the formation of a new parliament of Paris, it passed an arret couched in stronger terms than any that has yet appeared; and at the conclusion it forbids all officers belonging to the parliament of Rouen to acknowledge any acts of this nominal parliament of Paris.

L O N D O N.

April 30. This day the following bills received the royal assent by a commission from his Majesty: The bill for applying the sum granted for the pay and clothing of the militia for the year 1771.

The bill for embanking that part of the Thames adjoining to Durham-Yard, in the Strand.

The bill for making a navigable cut or canal from Bradford, to join the Leeds and Liverpool canal, at Windhill, in the township of Idle, in Yorkshire, and many other bills.

On Saturday some of the Common Councilmen and principal inhabitants of Bridge Ward Within, went to the Tower in seventeen coaches, and presented an address to the Lord Mayor and Alderman Oliver.

Yesterday Sir George Rodney set out from his house in Welbeck-street for Portsmouth, to take upon him the command of the Squadron destined for Jamaica.

His Majesty's ship the Captain, of 64 guns, in which Rear-Admiral Montague is to proceed to his station at Halifax, and is now at Longreach taking in their guns and powder.

So greatly have administration increased their power of late, by an enormous number of dependants, that above 700,000*l.* per annum goes to the several officers concerned in collecting the various taxes.

The army have shewed that they retain the same spirit of liberty, which English armies have always shewn: They have had the judgment, in the first instance, to nip the attempt of introducing foreign troops into the English dominions, and have dared to vote, in spite of influences, against the bill for the more effectually raising a military force for the protection of the settlements and possessions of the East-India Company, and threw it out, to the great joy of all thinking men, who are friends to his Majesty's and the House of Hanover, and the liberties of England.

Dispatches, the contents of which are kept a profound secret, have, within these few days been sent off for the naval commanders on the American station.

Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, April 27.

"We daily expect Admiral Rodney here from London, in order to set sail for the West-Indies, his Squadron being ready for sailing."

"We expect 16 ships to be paid off here, but the men turned over to other ships."

Yesterday the further consideration on the Earl of Chatham's appeal came on before the Upper Assembly, when the Solicitor General and Mr. Dunning were heard for the respondent, and the Attorney General, by way of reply, for the Earl of Chatham, after which the following question was put to the judges, "Whether in the event that has happened the devise to the respondent William Daw Tothill, of the Bank Stock, Exchequer orders, leasehold estates, and furniture of the houses specifically bequeathed, is good and effectual, or void?" The Lord Chief Baron on behalf of himself and the rest of the judges desired Time to answer the same, it was then moved and ordered, that they should give their opinion on Monday next.

May 2. Yesterday the Lords North, and Rochford, had a long conference with his Majesty, at the Queen's palace.

Yesterday morning the Earl of Hillsborough, as Secretary of State for the colonies, had a grand levee of Colony Governors, Agents, and American merchants, at his house in Hanover-square.

The same morning Lord Sandwich had a grand and numerous levee of Admirals, and other naval officers, at his house at the Admiralty.

It was yesterday reported (but we cannot vouch for the authenticity of the assertion) that the Earl of Halifax died on Monday evening at his Seat at Bushy Park.

Yesterday the bill to prevent divorced persons from marrying with the offending party, was, according to order, to come on before a committee at the lower assembly; but a debate arising thereon, the question was put, Whether the Speaker should have the chair? it was carried in the negative; Ayes 60, Noes 80. And the bill dropped of course for this session.

Since the secession from the Supporters of the Bill of Rights, that Society, according to the best information we can obtain, is reduced to the following gentlemen.

These are the gentlemen who, as we are informed, at present compose the whole of that once respectable society; except that at their last meeting they admitted another gentleman who for this year is Lord Mayor of London. The Treasurer and the Secretary whom they had chosen having declined those offices, it is said John Wilkes, Esq. will be chosen Treasurer, and John Reynolds, Esq. Secretary; and that Sir Joseph Mawbey and Mr. Robert Jones will be chairmen alternately.

The Sheriff of Middlesex, when he enters into his office, swears, That he will truly return all the King's writs. It is probable Mr. Wilkes did not know the nature of the sheriff's oath, when he talked of refusing to make a return in case of Mr. Luttrell's seat being vacated as member for the county of Middlesex. Besides, if it were possible to get over the perjury, by the statutes of 8 Henry VI. c. 7. and 23 Henry VI. c. 14. a sheriff by such refusal would incur the penalty of two hundred pounds; one to the King, and the other to him who shall sue, and will likewise suffer a year's imprisonment.

The House of Commons will certainly finish their business to-morrow, when they will adjourn till Monday or Tuesday, as it is thought impossible for the upper house to finish the whole of their business till to-morrow's night, so that the prorogation is now fixed for Thursday's night.

Extract of a letter from Lisbon, March 23.

"A very extraordinary event has happened lately here in regard to commerce. Some days ago French cloths were refused dispatch in the custom house and shops; and since then a general order has been sent to that tribunal to stop all goods of French manufacture, which are either composed of wool, or have any mixture of that material in them; even their druggs are comprehended. You may easily conceive what an uproar this has occasioned among the French merchants; they have applied to their envoy here, who has sent home their case and written to his court for instructions."

Yesterday the principal inhabitants of the ward of Aldgate waited upon the Lord Mayor in the Tower, and presented his Lordship with an address, expressing their approbation of his late conduct.

It is a mistake that Mr. Wilkes at Mile-end talked of making no return to the writ. He mentioned not obeying it so far as to call the county together, when there was no legal vacancy, and returning the writ with the special matter endorsed on the back.

They write from Petersburg, that her Imperial Majesty has lately recalled all of her subjects whomsoever from banishment in Siberia, who had resided in that inhospitable desert for the term of seven years.

Some letters from Madrid mention that two Chiefs of the Spanish Ministry are at present in disgrace at Court, on account of the part they took in a late convention.

The House of Peers was very full yesterday, all the Lords having been summoned, on a motion of the Earl of Chatham's for an address to dissolve the present Parliament. None were admitted but Peers. The debates were continued very late, when, we are informed, it passed in the negative.

The state of the corn trade, for allowing the exportation of grain, &c. from America duty free, is dropt.

This morning Lord North had a conference with his Majesty at the Queen's palace.

This day the principal inhabitants of the ward of Farringdon Within went in procession to the Tower, and presented an address to the Lord Mayor and Mr. Alderman Oliver.

The common council and many of the principal inhabitants of Broad-street ward presented addresses this day to the Lord Mayor and Alderman Oliver in the Tower, expressing their approbation of their conduct.

On Friday evening last a masquerade was given for the amusement of the children of Nobility in Soho-square, at the house of Lord Pigot. Nurtured in the bosom of frivolity and luxury, it is not to be wondered if they wished to imitate their pappas and mamma, the l'age children at Mrs. Cornely's.

May 4. It is said the following motion was made on Wednesday last by the Earl of Chatham, in the Upper House: "That an humble address be presented to his Majesty, most dutifully and earnestly beseeching his Majesty, that under the late violations of the rights of the electors of Great-Britain in the election for Middlesex, still unredeemed, and in the present conflict which has so unhappily arisen between the claims of privilege of the House of Commons on one side, and those of the Magistracy on the other, his Majesty will, in his paternal wisdom, deign to open the way to compose this alarming warfare; and that in order to prevent the said House and the Nation from being involved in intemperate discussions of undefined powers, which in the extreme may endanger the constitution, and tend to shake the tranquility of the Kingdom, his Majesty will be graciously pleased to recur to the recent sense of his people, by dissolving, after the end of this session, the present Parliament, and calling, with convenient dispatch, a new Parliament." 53 for it, 72 against it.

We hear a protest is entered against the Durham-yard embanking bill, signed by Lord Shelburne, and two other Lords.

Yesterday a court of common council was held at Guildhall, when the committee appointed to prepare petitions to every branch of the legislature, against the embanking of the river Thames at and near Durham-yard, reported a petition to the King, which being read was very much approved and agreed to with one little alteration, and ordered to be delivered directly to his Majesty by the Sheriff, attended by the Remembrancer, which was accordingly done.

It was ordered that Mr. Remembrancer be directed to take copies of all the evidence given the House of Lords, relating to the embanking of the river Thames at Durham-yard, together with the Lords' protests thereon.

It was moved that this court, with the city officers, be desired to attend the Right Hon. Earl of Chatham, Lord Mayor, and Mr. Alderman Oliver, in their gowns, in procession from the Tower to the Mansion-house, on their enlargement from their present confinement, and on being put was carried unanimously.

We are assured, that upon the day the Parliament is prorogued, the whole city of London will meet upon Tower-hill and places adjoining, in carriages and on foot, to attend the Lord Mayor and Mr. Alderman Oliver to the Mansion House. All the bells in the city of London and suburbs will ring the whole day, and the illuminations are expected to be more general than ever were known upon any other occasion.

Mr. Alderman Wilkes, who stood foremost for the discharge of the Printers, will attend the Lord Mayor to the Mansion House.

On Wednesday the common council and inhabitants of the ward of Dowgate, waited on the Lord Mayor and Mr. Oliver with their address: The Beadle rode on horseback at the head of the procession, with the mace new gilt, and a blue fish, (the Alderman having refused the Beadle his cloak.)

A patent is preparing for creating Sir Jeffery Amherst a Peer.

The Earl of Halifax was yesterday much better, and out of danger.

On Monday last the Rev. Mr. Home and Col. Luttrell walked and conversed together a considerable time in the Mall in St. James's Park.

Yesterday the committee appointed for erecting the statue of the late William Beckford, Esq. in Guildhall, took dimensions of the place, in order for its being put up next week.

We hear that Mr. Heaton Wilkes, who took up his freedom last October, is to be joint Sheriff with his brother.

Some private letters from Lisbon mention a very spirited remonstrance in the name of the French King, having just arrived at court, couched in terms extremely humiliating to the pride of the Portuguese Premier.

Yesterday some farther complaints from the British merchants at Lisbon and Oporto were received by the Lisbon mail.

By the last accounts from Brazil, twelve ships of the line had just been laid up there, and their crews discharged.

Both Houses of Parliament will be prorogued on Thursday next, when the Lord Mayor and Mr. Alderman Oliver will leave the Tower, and be escorted by the most respectable bodies in the city to the Mansion House.

Great preparations are making in different parts of the city for celebrating the above event.

Yesterday an address from the Grand Jury of the county of Cardigan was presented to the Lord Mayor and Mr. Alderman Oliver by Watkin Lewis, Esq. signed by 17 gentlemen; in which they beg his Lordship and Mr. Oliver's acceptance of their thanks as a testimony of their approbation and highest esteem for their upright behaviour as Magistrates, and their firm, manly, and intrepid conduct, in support of the rights and privileges of the subject.

It is now conjectured from some advices lately received, that the Aurora frigate, by accident took fire at sea, a few days after she sailed from the Cape of Good Hope.

ANNAPOLIS, June 20.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Virginia, dated June 3.

I am just returned from the South Side of James River, where I have seen the most dreadful calamity which has ever yet befallen this country. The damages done by the late severe fresh cannot amount to less than five hundred thousand pounds; upon James River only, not less than five hundred houses have been swept away, 1000 hogheads of tobacco from Shoccoke's, Byrd's, and near as many more from the tobacco houses of different people; the whole sale store-houses of every merchant in Shoccoke, Rocky Ridge, and Warwick: Those at Osborne's were afloat, but fortunately saved, by being tied to large trees, though all the goods were damaged, as the waters were up five or six lengths of shingles upon the roofs. All the islands and low grounds were under water; their last year's corn, and their present crops of corn, wheat and tobacco, with all their stock, and some negroes, not only carried off, but the very soil itself washed away. Upon Roanoke they say it has been still worse. Shannadoe has suffered greatly, and the crops upon the low grounds of Pomonkey and Mataponi ruined. The fresh has also done great damage upon Rappahannock, but not so much as upon Roanoke, James River, and Shannadoe. The crop of tobacco now growing must be lessened at least 25,000 hogheads.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.

By a Gentleman from Mecklenburg County, in North Carolina, we are informed, that he came through Orange County, and was at the Governor's Camp 4 Days after the late Battle with the Regulators, where he learnt the following Particulars, viz. That on the 15th of May, a Party of the Regulators came up with one of the Provincials at some Distance from the main Body, whom they cut to Pieces; that on the 16th, just before the Action, one of the Regulators, named Thomson, came up to the Governor and grossly insulted him with threatening Language, bidding him fire, for they did not regard him, nor all his Forces, on which he shot him dead, when the Engagement ensued, by a heavy Fire, killed nine or ten of the Principals, and wounded about 40; that the Regulators being badly disciplined, and under no Command, attacked the Governor very irregularly afterwards; that the Action lasted near two Hours, when the Regulators began to disperse; that upwards of 250 of them were killed, a great Number wounded, and about 100 taken Prisoners; that on the 17th the Governor issued a Proclamation, offering his Pardon to those who would come in, lay down their Arms, and swear Allegiance to his Majesty within a limited Time; that upwards of 900 had come in, and more were continually surrendering themselves, and it was thought that most, if not all of them, would surrender, except about 40, who were contained; that one James Few, an Outlaw, was hanged in the Governor's Camp; and that on the 20th, the Day he came away, a Court was to be held at Hillsborough, for the Trial of the Prisoners.—He further informs, that as he came through Virginia, he was told by several People, that one whole Family at Green Briar, on the Frontiers of that Province, were lately killed by the Cherokee Indians, in their Excursions.

By Letters, &c. from North Carolina, we learn, that in the Action on the 16th, as mentioned above, there were 300 of the Regulators left dead on the Field, and that the Number killed and wounded amounted to 900, and that the Action 1500 of them had come in, thrown down their Arms and sworn Allegiance. It is said that Hunter, one of the Leaders of the Regulators, was killed in the Battle, and that Herman Husband, the other of their Chiefs, after suffering them of Victory and encouraging them, rode off. The Governor's Party have destroyed the House and laid waste the Plantation of said Husband, and were in pursuit of him, when the last Accounts came away.

NEW-YORK, JUNE 27.

Three Men were committed to Poughkeepsie Gaol, a few Days since, on Suspicion of coining and passing Dollars made of base Metal.

Thursday last the Ship Britannia, Capt. Thomas Miller, sailed from hence for London, in which Vessel went Passengers, Ralph Izard, Esq. with his Lady and Family.

And on Saturday the Ship Grace, Captain Chambers, sailed for Bristol.

The 24th Inst. the Ship New-York, Capt. Haight, sailed from hence for London, with a Number of Soldiers who had been discharged (as unfit for Service) from his Majesty's 9th Regiment of Foot, now quartered in the Jerseys, (as was mentioned in our last) but on the 18th, in Lat. 29, 19, about 150 Miles to the Eastward, they had an excessive hard Gale of Wind at E. S. E. when the Ship sprung a Leak, put them under the Necessity to ride under the Fore-fall for 24 Hours, the Sea running very high, and breaking over them continually, obliged to have overboard all their Casks of Water in order to clear the Deck; the Ship making eighteen Inches of Water every Hour, they keeping the Pumps continually going, till the arrived here on Saturday last. The Day after the Gale, (Wednesday & night) one of the Soldiers, named Donagan, (who it was imagined had been disordered in his Senses) came from below to the fore-board Churn, and jumped overboard; one of the Sailors gave a Rope to him, which he took hold of, and was desired to hold fast, till they could give him some other Assistance, but he threw it from him with great Disdain, at the same Time endeavouring to put his Head under Water, and in a few Moments after he was drowned.

The Leak in the Ship New-York (Capt. Haight) having been discovered and found to be only in her upper Works, was easily stopped, and Yesterday, she sailed again on her intended Voyage for London.

And Captain Hay, that sailed the same Day with Capt. Haight, bound for Madeira, sprung a Leak also, and is put into New-London.

A Gentleman who was in the Engagement with

Governor TAYLOR, in North Carolina, against the Regulators, in his Letter to a Gentleman in this City, says, "Some Days before the Battle, a Number of Gentlemen from the back Country on Horseback, properly equipped, joined the Governor, who formed them into a Troop, and were of great Service; that before the Battle the Governor sent a Message to the Regulators, desiring them to lay down their Arms, and deliver up their Principals, which they refused; that he sent them a second Message by the High Sheriff, agreeable to an Act of Assembly passed last Session, acquainting them if they did not disperse in one Hour, he would fire on them, which they refused; that when the Hour was expired, he ordered the commanding Officer of the Artillery, to fire, which was immediately obey'd; in Consequence of the Governor's Proclamation, in 12 Days after the Engagement, 1300 of the Regulators had surrendered their Arms, took the Oath of Allegiance and were pardoned."

Saturday last was committed to our Gaol, Peter Kelleghan, and Benjamin Smith, on Suspicion of being concerned in robbing the Store of Messrs. Willing and Taylor, of Philadelphia. They came to Town from the Southward the Day they were apprehended, and a large Sum of Money was found in their Possession when taken up, of the Receipt of which they gave an unsatisfactory Account.

Capt. Marham in the Duke of Cumberland Packet, on the Passage spoke the following Vessels, viz. May 28th, Lat. 42. 37. a Ship 19 Days from Bristol, bound to Philadelphia; June 20. Lat. 38. 26. the Brig General Conway, Capt. Kennedy, from New-York, bound to Barbados.

Tuesday arrived the Brig Coronation, Captain David Griffiths in 7 Weeks and 3 Days from Bideford, who, May the 7th, Lat. 42. 44. spoke the Brig Commodore, Hodge, 5 Weeks from Virginia, bound to Falmouth.

One Joseph Troughton, of Tanton, in Boston Government, who was drowned in Hell-Gate, on the 18th Day of June, by being knocked over-board by the Boom of his Boat; was Yesterday found floating in the River, some Miles below the Place where he was drown'd, and brought to this Town by the Person who found him; the Coroner being sent for, on a strict Inquiry before him, the Jurors brought in their Verdict, that the said Troughton was drowned by an Accident.

POET'S CORNER.

WHILE the Bottle to Humour, and social Delight,
Its cheering Assistance can lend;
While it happily keeps up the Laugh of the Night,
Or enlivens the Mind of a Friend;
O let me enjoy it, ye bountiful Powers,
That Time may deliciously pass;
And should Care ever think to intrude on my Hours,
Scare the Haggard away with the Glass.
But, instead of a rational Feast of the Soul,
Should Folly and Discord commence,
Debate and Contention prelude o'er the Bowl,
And Reason be drowned in Sense;
Should the Man I esteem, or the Friend of my Breast,
In the Ivy feel nought but the Rod;
Should I make sweet Religion a prodigal Jest,
And daintily sport with my God;
From my Lips dash the Poison, O merciful Fate,
Where the Maddest or Blaspheinous hung,
And let every Accent, which Virtue should hate,
Parch quick on my infamous Tongue.
From my Sight let the Curse be eternally driven,
Where my Reason so fatally strays,
That no more I may offer an insult to Heaven,
Or give Man a Cause to upbraid.

SUTTONIAN INOCULATION.

MR. LATHAM Surgeon to the King's (or 8th) Regiment of Foot, informs the Public, that he is the only Person who can appoint Practitioners to inoculate after the Suttonian Method, in any Part of America;
North of Philadelphia; while Doctor Shuttleworth (Brother-in-Law to Mr. Sutton, is the only Person that can inoculate) except Mr. John Smith, sen. in Virginia, or can cattle to be inoculated in the same Manner, South of Philadelphia. Mr. Latham assures the New-England People, that he will wait upon any Number, assembled together to be inoculated; and as his desire is to be of as much Service to Mankind as he possibly can, he will endeavour to bring the Suttonian System to as great Utility and Practice in America, as it is now in Great-Britain and Ireland; where Mr. Sutton has several Partners.

N. B. Mr. Thomas Outwater, Surgeon and Practitioner of Physick in Orange Town, is appointed for the Practice of the Suttonian System, in said County, as also for that of Bergen County; And Mr. George Pugh, Surgeon and Practitioner of Physick in Elizabeth-Town, is appointed for the said Practice, within the Eastern Part of the Province of New-Jersey, including Princeton.

yers on the Case, some Proceedings thereon of the Common Council of London, with the Recorder's Speech, &c.
As these Speeches and Writings are very remarkable, and upon a Subject extremely interesting to every Englishman;
as they give us a clear and distinct View of the respective Rights of the People, and of each Branch of the Legislature, and therefore ought to be often read, well understood, and carefully preserved, as determining a most important Point, and as a lasting Monument of one of the most violent and dangerous Attacks ever made upon our glorious Constitution, with the most noble, vigorous and effectual Defence of it;
many of our Customers and others, in order to preserve these valuable Pieces entire, and free from the Mixture of other Matters, and to avoid the Trouble of searching for them as they lie scattered thro' several News Papers, have encouraged the Printer to make the Collection; and it is not doubted will encourage the Sale so as to prevent his being a

WILLIAMSBURG, June 1.

By an express which we sent to Richmond on Thursday, in order to obtain the fullest account that could then be got, of the damage sustained by the late great fresh, and which is but this moment returned, we have the following particulars.

Richmond Times, May 13.

The terrible devastation caused by the fresh is scarcely to be conceived but by the distressed sufferers: from as far up the river as we have received accounts, there are neither fences nor houses left on the low grounds, except what might lodge in coming down from other places. Many people have suffered greatly by the loss of wheat, and in a great degree, their stock, as also some negroes; and the ruinous appearance of making tobacco, occasioned by this terrible disaster, affords a melancholy prospect, more especially as all the corn, which numbers of poor families entirely depended upon for subsistence, is carried down the stream. All the tobacco at Shoccoe's inspection is damaged, and it is imagined there were not less than 1500 hogheads, at it. At Byrd's, near all the ground tier is damaged, supposed 603 hogheads.—Three fine large granaries, lately built, belonging to Mr. Campbell, Mr. Buchanan, and Mr. McDowell, are carried away, with sundry valuable goods in them; two are totally lost, and Mr. Campbell's lodged in a part of the town. Many goods are damaged that were deposited in the public and other warehouses. The merchants at Rocky Ridge had likewise their warehouses near the river carried away, and 300 and odd hogheads of tobacco damaged. The merchants at Warwick have suffered considerably in their property. Indeed we are constantly hearing of dismal accounts concerning it. Several people's low ground is much washed away, and others much flooded. It is judged that the water was at least 10 feet perpendicular higher than the August fresh in 1720 or 24, or any other ever known by the oldest man about us, and 35 or 40 feet higher than a common side. The damage sustained here, and at Rocky Ridge, including tobacco, is computed to be near 40,000. In short, the loss of tobacco here, Westham, Rocky Ridge, and at other landings higher up the river, is estimated at 3000 hogheads, or more.

Houses, warehouses, wine, tobacco, rafts of trees and timber, are constantly seen floating down the river. The shores are covered with dead carcasses. Capt. Cooke lost 5 anchors. Capt. Clark's yawl was overboard, and 5 men were drowned. Several of the ships at Thirty Hundred and City Point, are gone ashore, and, it is feared, cannot be got off. Some waggons who are arrived at Richmond, from Augusta, say, that it rained almost ever since they left home, which was about 10 or 12 days; and we since learn that there has been the greatest devastation in that country and Albemarle, by the overflowing of low grounds, loss of stocks, houses, &c.

WILLIAMSBURG, June 6.

Since our last we have received the following further particulars from Richmond:

Colonel Wilson Miles Cary lost at his plantation, nine hogheads of tobacco, half the black cattle at one quarter, sheep, hogs, &c. a corn house of Indian corn, and thirteen tobacco houses. One Peter Goolby in Albemarle lost his overseer and wife, and three negroes, which were all he had. Martin Key lost seventeen negroes, and twenty-nine tobacco houses; and Thomas Ballou lost three negroes.—Ninety hogheads of tobacco at Cabell's, and 70 hogheads at Mosley's warehouses, were carried off; a waggon and horses were seen coming over the falls.—Many plantations on the river have suffered prodigiously; some to the value of two or three thousand pounds. Captain George Cox of Henrico, has suffered in lands and houses, five thousand pounds; and Colonel Thomas Man Randolph has lost much more. Most of the low lands are rendered entirely unfit to produce any future crop. On Roanoke, and most of the back rivers, the case is full as dreadful. Mr. Walter King of Bristol, has lost fourteen negroes; Colonel Hartwell Cooke, son, Mrs. Randolph had many carried down the river, but saved all except two, by their getting into trees. A poor man, with his wife and ten children, from the northward, drove his waggon to Carter's ferry, where the waters rose so fast, that it was with great difficulty they saved themselves and horses. The waggon and a chest with three hundred pounds in it, which was all he had, were carried down the stream. At the falls, there are about two thousand hogheads damaged, which many people are trying to save, though it begins to spoil with heat.

At Falmouth, on Rappahannock, it is said, three thousand hogheads are damaged and destroyed.

From Richmond we learn that they receive daily accounts of the devastation occasioned by the late Floods. From the mountains, to the falls, the low grounds have been swept of almost every thing valuable; and the soil is so much injured that it is thought not to be of half its former value, and a great part is entirely ruined. One instance may suffice: A tract of land where the river forks, which before the fresh was judged to be very richly worth ten thousand pounds, is not now rated at so many hundreds. Fourteen negroes belonging to that estate were drowned, and only one house left out of forty, which were sixty by forty feet.—Off Elk Island, between six and seven hundred head of cattle, hogs, horses, and sheep, have been lost, and near a hundred houses; besides grain, tobacco, &c.—At Farrar's Island, which the highest fresh never before affected, above eighty acres of fine land are rendered for ever incapable of cultivation, the soil being gone, and in its stead ten or twelve feet deep of sand, upon which is a layer of stones, as if paved.—Many other islands have been torn to pieces, hills of sand thrown up, channels stopped and their courses altered, and, in short, the face of nature almost entirely changed.—Old Jos, an honest and well known negro fellow at the falls of James River, who is intimately acquainted with the remains of an Indian nation that has resided there for ages, says that he was shown by their old men the marks of the greatest fresh handed down to them by tradition; and that, upon his carefully measuring, it wanted near fifteen feet of the late dreadful one.—A ship at Warwick founded from the beginning of the perceptible increase of the river, and found that the fresh, at its height, was upwards of forty feet higher than the common tides.—The lessened value of the lands, loss of stocks, houses, tobacco, wheat, and corn in houses, with fencing, and the crops on the ground, baffles all description.—Byrd's, Shoccoe, Richmond, Rocky Ridge, and Warwick, have suffered amazingly; in the loss of merchandise and tobacco, besides houses, &c. Between five and six thousand hogheads of tobacco are gone from these places.—The distresses of the people in Albemarle, and those parts of the country in the reach of the fresh, is not to be described; most of them being left without bread to eat, or dwellings, and their stocks gone.—The trading part of the country has likewise suffered excessively, in European and other goods, as well imports as exports.—The losses, and very great distress, of the numerous sufferers, call loudly for the interposition and assistance of the legislature; which no doubt that respectable body will take into as early consideration as may be, and grant the immediate and effectual relief which is so much wanted.—In some places, trees, carcasses, &c. are matted together, from twelve to twenty feet in height; and from the horrid stench, there is no coming near enough to separate them. Happily, if, at this season, we escape some contagious disorder.—Miles in length of trees and logs came driving down the river, and nothing could withstand the force. The logs were almost up to the bowprits of many vessels; so that their anchors could not avail them, and were chiefly lost.—There were no rains to speak of at Richmond, and thereabouts, so that they must have fallen from the mountains to about thirty or forty miles above the falls. From the first perceptible rise of the river at that place was about fifty hours, and the water sometimes rose at the rapid rate of sixteen inches an hour.—Daily accounts are received of the loss of whole families; and houses came floating down, with people on them calling for help, though none could be afforded. Accounts are already received of fifty odd people being drowned.

Appamattox has been little or nothing affected, which proves that the rains must have fallen high up the country. The devastation on Roanoke is, if possible, still greater; in the ruin of valuable lands, loss of negroes, stocks, houses, &c. On Pamunkey river, the low grounds are chiefly laid under water, the crops and meadows destroyed, and the fencing gone. Many houses and mills are carried away, and a deal of grain and other commodities spoiled. A letter from Fredericksburg says, that several houses and mills have been swept away from that place and Falmouth; that the highest fresh in Rappahannock never came up to the floors of the warehouses, but that this rose as high as the joists; whereby a large quantity of tobacco was floated out, nine hundred hogheads from Falmouth, or the lower warehouses, and three hundred from Dixon's, the upper inspection. Much salt, and other goods lost; several vessels driven from their anchors; a deal of valuable land washed away; incredible quantities of trees and fencing come down the river; only one life lost, that had been then come to the knowledge of. We have no accounts from Potomack; but, from its communication with the rivers at the mountains, there is no probability of their having escaped this almost general calamity. Upon the whole, it is believed that history scarcely affords an instance of equal damage being done to any country, if the destruction of lands, loss of property, &c. be included.

A waggish blade at Richmond, we are told, said it was his opinion old Nick had bored a hole through the mountains, and let in the South Sea upon them.
